Kansan City, Nov. 4.—Col. Henry Steele Olcott of Adyar, India, the president-founder of the Theosophical Society, and co-worker in her lifetime of the late Helen P. Blavatsky, has been seriously injured in a railway wreck in Italy, according to private advices received today by a member of the society in this city.

Beyond stating that he had been placed in a hospital, and is "in a bad way," no details of the wreck are given. Because of his advanced age, fears for his recovery are entertained.

Col. Olcott at the time was on his way to India from Chicago, where he had presided at the annual convention of the American section of the Theosophical Society held in that city in September.

HURL BOMB AT DOOR.

Black Hand Would Deal Death.

Dynamite Wrecks Tenement Building; Many Have Narrow Escapes.

Every Window in Entire Brooklyn Block Shattered by Explosion.

Failure of Attempt to Blackmail Italian Results in Dastardly Deed.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Unsuccessful in their attempts to blackmail Francisco Messina, a prosperous tailor of No. 23 Bushwick avenue, Brooklyn, members of the "Black Hand" society early this morning hurled a dynamite bomb against the front door of the tenement house, in which he lives and conducts his business, and caused damage of $2000 to the building and surrounding property.

Scores of persons felt the shock of the explosion, but no one was injured.

SEEK GUILTY PARTIES.

Every available detective in Brooklyn has started on a search for the bomb throwers. Following closely a half dozen similar outrages in the same neighborhood, this attack has spread terror among the Italians.

Messina had received several letters within a month demanding from $400 to $1000.

FAMILIES IN BUILDING.

Ten families, numbering more than fifty persons, were asleep in the house when the bomb was thrown. The explosion tore away the front part of the building, shattered every window and much of the interior woodwork, and not a house in the block had a whole pane of glass when the report died away.

Occupants of the building were tossed from their beds, and in their haste to escape from what they thought was an earthquake, huddled in rear rooms, or clad only in their night clothing, scrambled down the fire escapes.

ARMED POSSE AFTER GYPSIES.

ROMANY BAND IS SUSPECTED OF CHILD-STEALING.

Nine-Year-Old Linton Tarbell of Mapleton, Sent to Store by His Mother, Disappears and Has Not Been Seen—Wanderers Had Large Bunkies.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

PORTLAND (Me.) Nov. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An armed posse of over five hundred men, with two bloodhounds, started at sunrise, this morning, in the most remarkable search that has ever taken place in this section of the country. They went in pursuit of a band of gypsies, believed to have kidnapped or killed a 9-year-old lad from Mapleton.

The lad, Linton Tarbell, disappeared last Wednesday night. He had been sent by his mother to the store, and his way took him over a dark and lonely road. He did not return, and did not visit the grocery, and was not seen by any of his playmates.

Gypsies carrying a large bundle were seen in the vicinity the same night, and the boy's cap was found in the street.

Since then, the searching parties have covered eighteen miles of territory. It is learned the gypsy band was long suspected of child-stealing.

COURTESY FOR CUBANS.

Troops' Long Marches Are Made to Restore Confidence, and Soldiers Are Cautioned to Be Polite.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

HAVANA, Nov. 4.—It is the intention of the provisional government to have the American troops here make extensive practice marches throughout the country. This should not be interpreted as a threatening demonstration; the step is taken for its moral effect on the restoration of confidence.

In a general order Gen. Franklin Bell enjoins all officers and enlisted men of the American army of occupation to manifest all possible courtesy toward Cubans of all parties.

COUNTRESS CASTELLANE'S PLEA.

PARIS, Nov. 4.—A continuation of the plea of the Countess de Castellane for absolute divorce from her husband, Count Boni and the custody of their children, will be presented before the tribunal of First Instance of the Seine, at Paris, by Maître Cruppi, counsel for the Countess, November 7, after which the counsel for Count Boni will be heard.

ARREST IS DENIED.

Japanese Have no Sketches of Manila Fortifications—Map-making Now Allowed.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

MANILA, Nov. 4.—The story that a Japanese army officer had been placed under arrest here for sketching certain of the fortifications of Manila harbor was denied today by Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood, commander of the Division of the Philippines.

No such arrest has been made, and no Japanese have taken sketches of the fortifications. It is well known that since the American occupation, Japanese have been engaged in making maps of the Philippine Islands. There is no existing law to prohibit them, although such laws were in force under the Spanish regime.

Gen. Wood has just returned to Manila from a hunting expedition.

PARTY LEADERS FIGHT BAILEY.

APPEAL TO TEXAS DEMOCRACY TO DOWN HIM.

Nearly Three Hundred Prominent Men, Including Col. Holt, Former Mayor of Dallas, and Ex-Attorney-General, Work to Defeat Him.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

FORT WORTH (Tex.) Nov. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An address to the people of Texas was issued this morning on the subject of Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey, his alleged connection with corporations and calling upon the Democracy of the State to take steps to prevent his reelection to the United States Senate from Texas.

The address is signed by 272 prominent Texas Democrats, including such names as Col. O. T. Holt of Houston; former Mayor Barry of Dallas; former Atty. Gen. Crane and others of equal standing and prominence.

GLASS PLANTS IN THIS STATE.

NEW INVENTION TO BRING FACTORIES HERE.

Discovery of a Burner Which Will Permit Use of Oil, Instead of Gas, Without Accumulating Soot, Proves to Be a Great Boon to Manufacturers.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW CASTLE (Pa.) Nov. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The discovery here of a burner which will permit the use of oil instead of gas in the manufacture of glass will probably mean the erection of several glass factories in California.

The American Window Glass Company, at its plant here, has been experimenting for months with a burner which can be used in the manufacture of glass, and has at last succeeded. The trouble with oil in the past has been an accumulation of soot which prevented successful glass making, but this new burner prevents the soot from gathering. It is understood that several factories are to be located in California. The discovery certainly means a great boon in the glass business.

POLISH CATHOLIC SCHOOLS.

The Vatican Decides It Is Up to Germany and Its People to Decide the Question.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

ROME, Nov. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Herr Von Tschirsky, German Secretary for Foreign Affairs, has failed in his several visits to persuade the Vatican to interfere in the Prussian Poland Catholic school question. While several Polish bishops and the archbishops of Posen support the people in the matter, the Vatican has decided it must be settled between the German government and the people themselves.

The plan under consideration by the Vatican is to establish a Papal delegate at St. Petersburg, and the only opposition comes now from the Russian Greek church.

GEMS MADE TO ORDER.

New Kinds of Emeralds and Sapphires Appear in Jewelry District.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] New kinds of emeralds and sapphires have appeared in the wholesale jewelry district. It is said that although they are artificial, they are the same in composition and properties as natural stones, and jewelers fear, if this be true, the sale of natural emeralds and sapphires will be injured, as the traffic in natural rubies was affected by reconstructed rubies, which became a commercial factor several years ago.

Since success was achieved in the manufacture of rubies, chemists all over the world have been working to discover processes for making the other three stones commanding high prices, namely, diamonds, emeralds and sapphires.

ROCK SHACKLES HOLD ONCE VAGRANT RIVER.

Closing of Break Demonstrated a Success Yesterday Noon.

Hind Dam High Above Water and but Little Tricking Through Between the Rocks of That Structure.

Empire Menaced by the Unruly Stream Is Rendered Safe—Great Cause for Rejoicing.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

HANLON JETTY, Nov. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Channel leading to Salton sea closed at noon today. Head at time of closure, fifteen and six-tenths feet. Old channel carrying normal flow to gulf.

(Signed) EPES RANDOLPH.

IMPERIAL HEADQUARTERS, Nov. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That the closing of the Colorado River break had at that hour been demonstrated to be an absolute success was officially announced at noon today by Col. Epes Randolph, president of the Southern California Development Company.

The Hind dam was then high above water, and but little water was trickling through between the rocks of the dam. Ten days may be required to seal the break in the rock with gravel and clay, shutting off the last drop in the break.

BUILDING AN EMPIRE.

Thus there has been accomplished an act never witnessed on earth before, and one which was declared by the vast majority of engineers to be an impossibility. Sitting here in view of the completed dam and of the wrecked wooden gate a flood of recollections of the romance of industry comes back to me. I see once more the first shovelful of dirt lifted on the irrigation canal, as I saw it in the summer of 1900. I see once more the panorama of desert as I drove ninety miles the next two days through Imperial valley, where then not a human being resided and not a spear of vegetation ever had been grown through aid of man. I see the first home-seekers who, a few months later, wended their way across the barren place to stake out their claims and build their primitive houses of cloth and mesquite posts and arrow weed.

I see again that pathetic procession of pioneers who for three years wended their way to this land of promise, hardly men and women, babes in arms and old people of those who for many years had camped upon the frontier of civilization, and whose lives had been interwoven with homely hopes, loves and tragedies. Some of them had driven a thousand miles across arid plains to reach this land of promiscuous milk and honey. I see the homes springing up, the barren desert turn yellow and green with grain and alfalfa, the mild tones of color taking on a brighter aspect than had here been known in all the cycles that desert winds had been shifting and blowing.

I see the foundation laid for cities, the railroad reach out a helping hand, the vineyard and orchard come forth, the primary and grammar and high school spring up, churches, colleges, society establishments and civilization, and the barren desert turn yellow and green with grain and alfalfa, the mild tones of color taking on a brighter aspect than had here been known in all the cycles that desert winds had been shifting and blowing.

Mr. Carroll put the long list of questions required by the union from all candidates for the union and Mr. Schiff gravely answered each one. When finally he had been sworn in, and had received his union card, he thrust the trowel into the mortar and dedicated the corner-stone.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 4.—Missionaries report a most severe famine in the north part of Kiang Su province, Central China. It is estimated that 10,000,000 people face starvation.

The local magistrates are preventing people from leaving the region but are not taking steps to provide them with food supplies. Serious disorders are feared.

Barbed wire lined fences, gates studded with barbed, tops of walls covered with broken bottles, fierce dogs roaming in the gardens, armed servants constantly on guard, afford an idea of conditions which have prevailed within the home during another assault.

A sensational feature of the case is the assault upon Fujii. He was employed as a steward about the Afong home, and was the victim of a vicious assault by a maid-servant. He is

LONGEST AUTO RUN ABROAD.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 4.—(Executive Dispatch.)—Calvin Dyer, of Milwaukee, has won the longest automobile trip through the world. He left St. Paul, Minn., for H. H. Tryon of San Francisco having finished an automobile trip through the world, and returned to his home here. They will start from Naples for Alexandria November 16, and will pass through the Suez Canal, and Dyer claims to have made the longest automobile run made by an American in the world, and the longest traveling trip more than 13,000 kilometers.

THE CITY IN BRIEF

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Their Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Los Angeles News and Work Boys Home will be held at No. 48 E. 5th st. Wednesday at 3 p.m. The public is invited as well as members and others interested.

Baptist Convention.

The annual meeting of the Southern California Baptist Convention will meet with Temple church December 4, continuing in session six days. Preparations are being made for the entertainment of the delegates.

Must Stay to End.

Ministers are not infrequently annoyed by irreverent and restless people who march out of the church during the singing of the closing hymn. The custom is frowned upon in the Temple, and the ushers are instructed to permit no one to leave the room at such time, or until the benediction has been pronounced.

Ministers Will Meet.

A meeting of the members of the Presbyterian Ministers' Union will be held by the Central Presbyterian Church this morning at 10 o'clock and they will be addressed by Rev. Scanlan, field secretary of the General Assembly Committee on Temperance. Prof. Scanlan has been visiting the grounds on the Pacific Coast.

Stabbed in His Home.

Faustino Lopez, a Mexican laborer, was stabbed by a man of his own race in his home, No. 16 North Utah street, early yesterday morning. The man could not, or would not, tell the identity of his assailant nor the cause for the assault. He refused to go to the Receiving Hospital and was left at his home in the care of his wife.

Boys Were Frightened.

Two unidentified lads dashed into a drug store at 8th and Figueroa streets last night about 11 o'clock, and reported that they had been robbed. The drugstore called detectives from the Central station, but before they arrived the youths decided to leave. Just before going the youths told the drugstore that a masked man had chased them. The police could not confirm the report.

Christian Science Lecture.

Judge William E. Ewing of Chicago lectured last night at Simpson Auditorium on "The Teachings of Christian Science." The speaker was presented by W. T. Bellock, whose remarks were very well received. Judge Ewing declared that Jesus never preached but one sermon during His life on earth, and said the Master never repeated that He declared Christ was a believer in a practical gospel which relied for support on the application of practical teachings. "If we extend a cup of cold water in His name, we are preaching the same sweet story the living Son of God preached," said the lecturer.

BREVITIES.

BISHOP LAYS CORNER-STONE.

SERVICE AT SITE OF NEW ST. LUKE'S CHURCH.

As It Was Beginning a Team of Runaway Horses Ruckus Toward Crowd—They Are Stopped by Herdsmen of Choir Boy—Parish Growing Under Popular Rector.

The corner-stone of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, on Vernon avenue near Central, was laid with special ceremony yesterday morning. The handsome structure will be cruciform in design and of the old English style of architecture. Bishop Johnson of the diocese of Los Angeles, conducted the ceremony.

The service began at 10:30 o'clock with a sermon by the bishop. This was followed by special music, conducted by Musical Director Frank McManis. After the service the congregation formed in procession, and led by the choir, proceeded to the site of the new church building.

Just as the outside service was about to begin, and as the people crowded near the platform erected for the ceremonial, a panic was caused by a runaway team which came dashing down Vernon avenue, directly toward the throng. For a moment the throng was in peril.

Arthur Maria, aged 18, a member of the church, at the risk of his life, ran to meet the horses, and, catching at the reins, succeeded in guiding them away from the crowd and into the curb, where he stopped them. His heroism was rewarded by special mention by Bishop Johnson.

After the excitement subsided, the choir sang a hymn and then Rev. Henderson Judd delivered an address. At its conclusion Bishop Johnson placed the tin box, containing the church records, copies of the current issue of the press, including the Los Angeles Churchman, the Journal of the Eleventh Annual Convention of the Diocese of Los Angeles, and the first issue of the Bishop's Quarterly, and the photographs of the rector, warden and vestry of St. Luke's parish, within the stone and sealed it. The corner-stone was then swung into place and set. Others of the clergy who took part in the service are Rev. W. F. Hubbard and Rev. E. L. Windsor, the rector of St. Luke's.

St. Luke's has grown rapidly since its organization less than five years ago. Rev. Robert Windsor has been with the church for three years, first as a lay reader, then as a deacon, and later as priest in charge of the parish. He is a progressive pastor, energetic and forceful as a preacher, and he was beloved by his flock. The future of the parish is encouraging and the indications are for an even more rapid growth in the membership.

The officers of the church are: R. J. Long, senior warden; Matthew Rulter, junior warden; U. G. Todd, secretary; W. G. Harris, treasurer; vestrymen, Arthur Andrews and S. D. Moore.

MAN MISSING AND NO CLEW.

POUL PLAY FEARED AS HE CARRIED MONEY.

Winifred Davies Had Good Habits and Was in Good Health—Police Search Hospital Records, but Are Baffled—Investigation in Every Direction Is Devoid of Results.

Winifred Davies of No. 728 East Fortieth street has mysteriously disappeared. Although Davies is a man of regular habits, no trace of him can be gained after he left his sister's home, Friday night, to return to his own residence. The knowledge that Davies carries a considerable sum of money on his person has led his wife and friends to fear foul play. His wife is prostrated by anxiety.

The case is one of the strangest that the Los Angeles police department has had to deal with in some time. It came to light last night through the inquiry of Mrs. Carry L. Johnston of No. 1197 West Twenty-fourth street. Davies' mother, when she asked The Times to assist in locating her son.

Early last week Davies disposed of his property for cash. A part of the money, at least, Davies had carried about his person. When he left his home, Friday night, he was going directly home. Davies is a man of method and did not drink. For some time past Davies has been carrying in the Angelus Laundry, but has been taking a vacation.

As Davies was in perfect mental and physical condition and has been regular in his habits, the police are baffled. They have carefully investigated the hospital records and have made certain that no person answering his description has met with an accident or had been suddenly taken ill.

According to the police records, Davies is described as being about 30 years old, five feet five inches tall, weighing about 150 pounds, with dark wavy hair and a clean-shaven face. At the time of his disappearance he wore a dark gray suit and a dark hat.

UNDELIVERED TELEGRAMS.

There are undelivered telegrams at the office of the Postal Telegraph Company for Dr. Phillips, F. L. Hazard, Nicholas Dietri, Charles Crawley, R. H. Isman and J. A. McDermott.

Your Piano Should Be a
KNABE

There are Several Reasons Why

The Knabe is the most carefully constructed piano of the day. It is made to measure up to the Knabe standard of excellence. Each detail is a perfect part—it must be as it is repeated by the Knabe. In considering a piano you may never have thought of this—it is worthy of consideration, and there are various other "reasons why" that are hidden behind the highly veneered exterior of the incomparable Knabe.

More than three-score years and ten of experience in nothing but building the highest type of piano stands behind the Knabe of today. These years of progressive effort have largely contributed towards making the Knabe the world's best piano. Grands and uprights, $350 to $1000.

TAKES FOUR PRIESTS TO TIE THIS KNOT.

Molokane Wedding Starts With a Queer Procession and Ends With a Solemn Feast—Quaint Ceremonies of a Forgotten Age.

THE wedding of two Russian peasants made wild excitement yesterday in the quaint foreign quarter that clusters about Banning street. A wedding procession that looked as strange and foreign as though it had marched in from some forgotten century, went slinging through the little crooked streets for hours, to the wonderment of the Mickes, Japs and the Mexicans.

People travel half-way round the world without seeing anything as picturesque and out of the world. As yet these Russian Molokanes are unknown to the city.

First, the bride and groom, principals in Russian wedding yesterday. Second, the wedding procession led by the four priests of the Russian Church who officiated, followed by the young couple.

Some of the younger Molokas—the young men—are beginning to smoke cigarettes; to wear cheap imitation watch chains and American coats, but the main body of them live just as they did in their homes in the Caucasus Mountains, preserving all their native half-barbarous customs. They have not yet learned to be ashamed. Cold words will not tell of the charm they have added to the funny little Europe and Asia and Africa that lies beyond Alameda street.

BRIDE AND GROOM.

The groom of yesterday is a young peasant named Moosy Bieleff. He works in a laundry, and is looked upon as unusually prosperous. The little bride was also a Russian girl, who could not be called pretty by any candid, truth-telling writer, but whose face is gentle and rather appealing. Her name is Polia. She is an orphan. She probably never saw her lover, Bieleff, until she came to this country. Most of the Molokanes did not know one another in Russia.

The wedding began at noon and lasted all over the ward before they were ready for the ceremony. The groom went forth to claim his bride under conditions somewhat more impressive than our weddings—a rattled best man, lost gloves and a hack that arrives late.

The very first part of the Russian peasant's wedding took place at his own home, where his old father charged him with the duties and responsibilities that were to be his; then sent him forth to claim his bride. The groom went to the home of his bride, where he was met at the door by her relatives. They demanded to know what he wanted and why he was there. He let it down upon them that it was a wife he was after—which must have surprised them a good deal, under the circumstances.

There were two priests there—one for the groom and one for the bride. When the little white bride came in first, her hair was hanging in the manner of the Russian maidens. During the course of the ceremony she retired, coming back with her hair done in the fashion of the matron, and caught up in a little cap—just as our own grandmothers used to do the hair after the wedding.

The couple then knelt and were pronounced man and wife, while the brother and sister of the bride, who took the place of her father and mother, clasped hands over their heads.

RIBBON MEMENTOES.

After the wedding, the bride went through the loving ceremony of giving away her most precious hair ribbons to her girl friends; she does not wear hair ribbons as a married woman. The groom's mother also gave away some handkerchiefs to some of the guests.

The procession photographed here for the Times was taken as the bridal party was marching to the home of the bridegroom; it was the taking home of the bride. Actually, they beheld them came the bride and groom, and two intimate friends; alas, poor little Polia's parents were not there to see.

Polia wore a gown of pure white that was a very shocking fit—according to our notion—no hips or style. It was so short that it came only to her shoe tops and bobbed ridiculously as she walked. Her fair hair was covered with a little white cap.

The groom was tormented too nearly in American clothes to carry out the friends and relatives—by scores. They marched in column of platoons—first a line of men—then a line of women extending almost from curb to curb. They sang strange, monotonous, plaintive chants as they marched. Something in their music suggests the chants of the Japanese.

"TIPPECANOE," GILLET TOO.

ATWOOD REPUBLICAN FOR FIFTY-EIGHT YEARS.

Voted for Gen. Harrison Over Half a Century Ago and Will Cast His Ballot for Gillett Tomorrow—Old Friend Who Worked With Him First Will Vote at Same Time.

When Gillett's plurality is counted in the seventy-ninth precinct Tuesday night one of the ballots tallied for the Republican candidate will bear the name of L. A. Atwood.

They will cast their ballots side by side in tomorrow's election.

L. A. ATWOOD, who voted for "Tippecanoe" in 1848, and will vote for Gillett tomorrow.

Atwood was one of those who joined in the cry of "Tippecanoe and Tyler, Too," and the steadfastness of his devotion to the party has continued him in the ways of Republicanism so that the slogan might have been changed for him to read, "Tippecanoe and Gillett, Too."

Atwood's first vote was cast in Essex County, N. Y., and since that time he has resided in so many different States that he probably holds the distinction of having voted in more of the States of the Union than any other man who will cast his ballot in tomorrow's election.

He came to California in 1859 and has been active in Republican State and local politics since that time, although never aspiring to office. Tippecanoe, he said, was a great man, and within a year ago he resided at Santa Ana. Mrs. Atwood paid a tribute to the sincerity of her husband's Republicanism yesterday.

"I don't believe he could be bribed to vote anything but the Republican ticket," she said.

HOTEL CROOKS ARE AT WORK.

And Clubs, Too. Are Victims of These Swindlers.

One of Gang of Twelve Is Held by Police.

Operate in Big Cities from New York to Pacific.

Twelve room workers, who this year followed their annual custom of thieving their way from New York to the Pacific Coast, were stopped at the beginning of operations here, two days ago, by the police. One of their number, according to the arresting officers, is Fred Stuckley, who is now awaiting his preliminary hearing on a grand larceny charge. This is the first time this season that professional hotel thieves have been in evidence in Los Angeles.

Detectives Ziegler and Howick accuse Stuckley of being a clever crook working in the guise of a bellboy. The gang has been making yearly trips from the Atlantic Coast to California, across the States. The fellows are bellboys and good ones. They came through Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver and Salt Lake City, the route they have always used. In each city they secured positions in first class hotels, as bellboys. They looted rooms and hid their plunder. The gang separated into twos and threes and thus covered a lot of ground. It got too hot for any member of the crowd in one place, he would get a job in another. Thus the twelve, when they left a city, carried with them clothing and gems, in large quantities, it is said.

WELL RECOMMENDED.

The members of the gang took care to get, however possible, letters of recommendation. Some of these came from high sources, and while giving the room workers access to the best places, served in a measure to divert suspicion from them. A further protection lay in the fact that hotels are notoriously prone to cover up cases of theft. Thieves caught operating in hotels are almost always safe from prison. More than this, they are usually safe from publicity and so go on to other cities without any knowledge of their real character preceding them.

Stuckley, when the gang arrived in this city, got a position in the California Club, according to the officers. While he worked there he is alleged to have stolen a dress suit from F. M. Phelps, valued at $80. The manner of his capture was unusual.

The arresting officers were looking for men who had stolen $100,000 of brushes and manicure articles from a room in the Hotel Leighton. In the search they found Stuckley, J. O. Myers, G. Miller and J. Mullin, who had been working in the place. They arrested them and accused them of the theft. The officers did not discover the plunder they wanted, but they did discover Phelps's suit.

Investigation is still going on with a view to making some of the prisoners tell where the brushes are. Other recent room thefts are being traced to their door, and in their possession was found a big bunch of skeleton keys.

The theft of the brushes from the apartment in the Leighton was accomplished by cutting away a screen from a hall window. In the past there have been a number of other room robberies. All well executed, have been reported to the police, who are looking for other members of the gang.

Room working is a common form of theft in this city. By it some of the biggest hauls in Los Angeles police history have been made. It is one of the hardest crimes to ferret out. For the reason that this place is filled with rich tourist hotels and clubs frequented by wealthy men it is regarded as a rich pasture by crooks.

The room worker, that is to say, the room thief, is a man who steals under different guises. Sometimes he is a well-dressed crook who stays in one hotel and works in another where there is an accomplice who can give him information. Generally he is a bellboy. As such, he has access to rooms without arousing suspicion. As a rule also, he is a good bellboy, attentive and polite. Such young crooks reap a good harvest, but the police hear very little of their exploits.

Among the big thefts executed by room workers in this section was the jewel robbery of last winter in a Pasadena hotel. The police are inclined to think that in breaking up the gang of which Stuckley is believed to be a member, they will forestall a series of crimes in Los Angeles.

SOUND ADVICE.

Rev. Baker P. Lee Counsels Thought and Conscience in Casting Votes Tomorrow.

In a ringing sermon full of earnestness, devotion and enthusiasm, preached by Rev. Baker P. Lee, at Christ Episcopal Church yesterday morning, advice was given to think earnestly about the way men shall cast their votes in the election tomorrow.

The eloquent speaker said in substance: "Men often say: 'Oh, if I had the opportunity some men have I would do great things.' I say to you that the plain everyday duties of life afford us an opportunity to do great things. The man who does these common duties carefully, conscientiously and thoroughly, is all the time doing great things. No man who is careless, thoughtless, without conscience in these everyday duties could ever perform a great act, no matter what opportunity presented itself to him."

"Here is the election to take place next Tuesday. You all do a great thing by doing this duty well. Let us all give very careful thought to the casting of our ballot. I am not here to tell you to vote this party ticket on this side nor that party ticket on the other side, nor another party ticket in the middle. Vote for independent, clear manhood, the men who are free from boss influence and from any and all alliances which would tend to make them unright, clean and conscientious in the performance of their duty. Vote for the men who stand for good government and a square deal to all."

"When you have done this plain, seemingly simple duty in this way, when you vote as you pray, with careful and full consideration of what you are doing, you will have done a great service to the community, and that is always doing a great thing. Let clean, independent manhood be the thought uppermost in your minds."

The vigorous appeal produced so profound an impression that as the ringing words spent their last echo where "through the long dim aisles and fretted vault the pealing anthem sounds the note of praise," a pin might have been heard drop, and then the congregation audibly heaved a sigh, as if they had felt the appeal to do right.

CHINA REFORM CONSTITUTION.

The Imperial Edict Just Issued at Peking.

The Empire's Existing Laws Are Too Old.

Must Move Forward Along Path of Reform.

An official translation of the full text of an imperial edict issued in Peking last month, looking to the establishment of a constitutional government for the Chinese Empire, has been sent to the State Department

by W. W. Rockhill, the American

Minister in Peking.

The edict is one of the most important ever issued from Peking, and it carried out, which is doubtful in the hands of those familiar with the situation, it will create a decided change in the internal China, bringing the people and the government together, and making the empire more of a unit than ever before.

The decision of the Imperial government, which brought about the edict, was the result of reports of the missions which China sent throughout the world early this year. One of these missions, composed of the most prominent men in the Chinese empire, came to the United States. Others went to Europe. All devoted their time to a study of conditions, looking especially for ideas which might be introduced in China.

The edict came from the Imperial Majesty Tai Hsi, who evidently thinks it is high time for a change in the conditions of her realm. She says that the political institutions of China have remained as of old, and now a condition of affairs exists which threatens danger and disaster, day by day becoming more imminent.

MUST BROADEN KNOWLEDGE.

"Unless we broaden our knowledge," the edict reads, "by a more comprehensive study of the institutions of other lands, and improve our laws accordingly, we shall fail to keep the throne of our ancestors, and will be seen taken with due regard to the exigencies of the times, and have been embodied in the statutes of the empire.

"At present all nations are in free communication with each other, and their methods of government and their laws are influenced one by another. Our political institutions, however, remain as of old, and conditions of affairs which threaten danger and disaster day by day become more im-

San Francisco's Appeal To Her Sister Cities

The recent special session of the Legislature has proposed an amendment to the Constitution known as ASSEMBLY CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 2 (numbering 11 in order on ballot.)

This amendment empowers the Board of Supervisors, with approval of Mayor, to acquire by condemnation, purchase or donation, lands to be used for streets, parks, boulevards, reservoirs or esplanades, may sell or exchange lands to be used for similar purposes, may change, widen or close streets, etc.

This amendment is to be voted upon at the coming election.

It gives arbitrary power to the Mayor or Supervisors of the City of San Francisco, an opinion should be defeated.

MISS MARGARET GOETS of New York, the noted singer, was heard in the college chapel Friday evening, her recital being the first of a series to continue through the winter months. The large number who attended the recital, the selection given by Miss Goets, the violinist, will give the next number of the course, which will be December 7.

One of the most elaborate Halloween celebrations was given at the home of the family and students of the University of Southern California Wednesday. The preparation had involved weeks of planning by the various societies, fraternities, sororities and the faculty, each of which had its particular "stunt" on the program, and each was unaware of the arrangements of the others, so all were on the quiver of expectancy.

Everything was "spooky" in the gymnasium where the crowd first gathered, about 500 being present. Here the fraternities had booths arranged. A banquet was given later in the evening in the banquet hall, and a large table in the center piled high with fruits and various stalls of food formed a unique decoration.

The University Improvement Association Thursday evening listened to a presentation of the facts regarding the proposed annexation of Wilmington and East San Pedro to Los Angeles. On account of the fact that a Republican convention convening on that evening many of the members were absent, and the attendance was not as large as was expected. It was, however, evident from the expression that evening that this section of the city is in favor of the annexation.

A new New England quilling party was the attraction at the home of Mrs. E. E. Andrews, No. 84 West Thirty-sixth street last Wednesday. The ladies were invited to the quilling in the afternoon, and the gentlemen arrived in time for dinner. Vanda, near to New Englanders, such as baked beans, brown bread, salads, pumpkin pie and fruit, were served. The evening was spent with cards, games and music. The house was decorated with crepe paper, garlands and flowers, while lanterns lighted the porch and grounds.

On Wednesday of this week will occur the wedding of Miss Margaret Goets to Max Parker. The ceremony will take place at St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral on South Olive street. Miss Palmer, daughter of Dr. W. H. Palmer, is now out again, after an illness of five weeks, and expects to resume his duties again this week.

Miss Olive Buffington of No. 509 West Thirty-eighth street, will take up her studies again this week at the university. She has recently undergone an operation for appendicitis.

Miss Judith Brode gave a Halloween party to thirteen of her friends at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Brode, at the corner of Third and Broadway streets. A lady pull, and a witch's cave furnished the entertainment.

HIGHLAND PARK.

The Highland Park Realty Board has unanimously decided to merge with the Highland Park Improvement Association, providing the latter would use the money put into the treasury by the real estate men for the sole purpose of advertising Highland Park. The matter will be considered by the improvement association at its meeting on November 12.

The National Library Association has established a branch in Highland Park. After the books have been read, a certain number of subscribers, fifty volumes in the library will be donated to the Highland Park branch of the public library.
